It was the first contest to be played in the super-pennant struggle which the "stormy petrel" of basebail whose connection with the Robins is the thir. Brooklyn's southpaw hurling ace, pitched himself into a place in the world's series hall of fame today when he held Cleveland helpless in the third game of the super-pennant struggle which the National leaguers won 2 to 1. Smith, the "stormy petrel" of baseball, whose connection with the Robins is the thirteenth since his debut on the professional diamond, found this circumstance no handicap. Smith, the "stormy petrel" of basebail, whose connection with the Robins is the thirteenth since his debut on the professional diamond, found this circumstance no handicap. Any jinx hovering around the twirler from Mansfield, Ga., found lodgement in the ball which baffled the desperate efforts of the Indian war club swingers throughout the entire nine innings of the game.

Smith, whose hurling today easily won him a place among the stars of the baseball classic such as Mathewson, Coombs, McGinty and Bender of ancient series, was supported by his teammates in a manner which fully equalled the best exhibitions of fielding seen in many similar conflicts since the National Commission assumed a league-of-natons protectorate over the autumnal struggle of the major league premiers. The Superbas backed up their pitcher like the secondary defense of an All-American football team and it was almost impossible for the Cleveland batters to get a drive through the various combinations which shifted with lightning speed from place to place wherever the hali was hit.

Three hits only were made off the winning hurler and of these Catcher O'Neill gathered in two, and Manager Tris Speaker one. No better criterion of Smith's effectiveness of his ability to turn back the average batter is neede.

Speaker made by his his a double, in the surth; O'Neilli followed with a single in the fifth and anomer in the eighth inning. That was the total of the American League pennant winners' batting and had Zack Wheat played Speaker's double safely. Smith would have been credited with a world's series shut-out.

Of the 28 Indians who faced the Robins' star left-hander, only five reached first. Of these, three arrived on hits and two on passes. Speaker scored on an erwas once the victim of a double play and too. Two were left on bases and O'Neill Jamieson, who ran for him in the eighth inning, met a similar fate, Smith hurled 109 halls up to the visito's, of which 29 were strikes. 41 halls, 8 foul strikes, 5 fouls, 5 field outs, 18 ground outs and three hits. Infield, figured in a fast double play. Ollowing the fear of a Cleveland rally, batted its way to victory in the first inning as it eventually proved, by falling upon the pury offering of Ray Caldwell as soon as he took his place on the mound. What Manager Speaker saw in Caldwell's curves when the latter warmed up, will always be a mystery. Certainly the lanky former Yankee had nothing but deliberation after he entered the box of this he had plenty and to spare. of world's series games.

The outcome of the third game in no way appeared to affect the confidence of Manager Speaker in the ability of his players to win out in the coming battles which switch to Cleveland tonight.

It may have been at lucky thing for Brooklyn that Manager Speaker at the last moment decided to start Ray Caldwell in the box, for it was while Ray was on the mound that Manager Robinson's boys got their two runs. Ivy Olson, the Brooklyn shortstop, who has proved the most consistent player of either team in reaching first, his record for the life games being eight out of twelve, drew a pass in Brooklyn's half of the first. Jimmy Johnston promptly sacrificed him to second and he advanced to third when Sewell fumbled Griffith's grounder. Ivy completed the circuit on Wheat's hit to left and Griffith went to the midway. From that point the right fielder scored when Myers hit to short fight.
